Using the Beanstack App

What is Beanstack?

Beanstack is the software hosting this year's Summer Programs! It includes access to an app to log your reading, reviews, and activities right from your phone.

The app is available through the App Store and Google Play.

For more information about the desktop version, check out our Maynard Beanstack Guide.

Search for "Beanstack" in the App Store or Google Play. It should appear with this symbol and list "Zoobean, Inc." as the creator!

Logging Reading:

1) After selecting "Reading" choose how you want to add the title and author. The Beanstack app lets you scan the barcode, enter the ISBN, type the title in yourself, or log with no title.

Note: "Track Progress" is optional – if it's toggled on you will have to note how many pages are in the book and enter the range of pages you read.

2) Choose when you read.

"Log Past Reading" lets you type in time spent reading prior to opening the app.

"Quick Log as Complete" lets you note that you finished a book – but doesn't let you log how much time you spent reading it (meaning no credit).

Logging Activities:

1) After selecting "Activities" choose which badge you want to complete. Follow the instructions for each option.
